

The Federal Communications Commission
445 12th Street, SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

As a small consumer I don't think it is fair that I have to pay higher taxes just so big business can get lower phone taxes. I think it is about time that big business pays thier fair share and not be able to get all kinds of breaks at the cost of the little people, Bush has to be behind this he is all for big business and to hell with the smaller person, we have had enough of this flim flam game that big business has be playing and the scaming is bigger than ever sence C student has been in power.

Sincerely,

Ira Cravens
6725 N.W Compass Dr
Lawton, Oklahoma 73505-5443